Election/Restrictions

A preliminary amendment of 2/25/04 amended the specification, and canceled claims 1-13.

Claims in the application are 14-30.

5 Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 14-27, drawn to a method of screening a compound for biological activity, toxicity using a nanoporous silicon support, classified in class 435, subclass 32.

10 II. Claim 28, drawn to a method for analysis of metabolism of a compound using a nanoporous silicon support, classified in class 435, subclass 29.

15 III. Claim 29, drawn to a method of protein production using a nanoporous silicon support, classified in class 435, subclass 70.1.

IV. Claim 30, drawn to a method of hepatic support using a nanoporous silicon support, classified in class 435, subclass 2.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because: the methods of the inventions of Groups I, II, III and IV are different methods requiring different steps to provide different end results. Screening for biological activity, toxicity required by the Group I invention can be performed without carrying out the methods of the inventions of Groups II-IV. Analysis of metabolism of a compound required by the Group II invention can be performed without carrying out the methods of the inventions of Groups I, III and IV. The protein production method of the Group III invention can be performed without carrying out the methods of the inventions of Groups I, II and IV. The hepatic support method of the Group IV invention can be performed without carrying out the methods of the inventions of Groups I-III.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Searching and examining the different methods of the inventions of Groups I-IV together will be a serious burden due to the method of each invention requiring a different search and different considerations in regard to prior art not required by any of the methods of the other inventions.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Art Unit: 1651

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
